At its session on the 28th day of December, 2014 the Executive Council of Tel Aviv University resolved to honor

Natan Barak
Executive Director of the Iron Dome Air Defense System in recognition of his unprecedented contribution to the strength, resilience and national security of Israel and its citizens; his determination and vision in developing the Iron Dome Air Defense System despite considerable obstacles; his own, years-long service to the State as a dedicated member of the Israel Defense Forces and the country’s defense industries; his personal example in advancing collaborative scientific research aimed at safeguarding the State; and his achievement in enhancing the reputation of Israeli technological ingenuity, a source of pride to Jewish communities worldwide, by conferring upon him an

HONORARY FELLOWSHIP of Tel Aviv University